

Husbands #1 Need: RESPECT

...found in Ephesians 5

It is an unconditional RESPECT. It says I respect you on your worst day and on my worst day without any expectations. But, I do not have to respect anything illegal, immoral, unethical or unbiblical. Wives give triple "A" to your husbands.

A - Accepted

Example: Accept my need of a companion... my desire for an intimate relationship with you. Accept that I want to share my life with you. Accept that I have feelings. Express these needs often to your spouse.

A - Assured

Example: Assure me that I am important to you and our family. Assure me that you love me. Assure me that I am respected by you. Assure me that you appreciate the hard work I put in for the family.

A - Admired

Example: Admire my appearance. Admire my gifts and abilities. Admire the amount of resources that I provide, both monetarily and experientially. Admire my concerns for the family's wellbeing.

WARNING: Take any one of the "A"s out and the other 2 "A"s will immediately follow and your husband's #1 need to be respected will not be met!
